←

Emily Weeks

CEO

eweeks@wice.org

Former USAID Project Manager with 15+ years of global development expertise

Linkedin

Conta

20 Years of experience

Professional Bio:

Dr. Emily Weeks is a globally recognized leader and visionary with extensive experience advancing sustainability initiatives that deliver real-world impact. A scientist and strategist, with extensive government experience, she is known for forging powerful alliances with the private sector, unlocking essential funding, and driving innovative solutions to some of the world's most pressing environmental and social challenges.

Dr. Weeks has been instrumental in shaping and mobilizing more than $50 billion in public–private partnerships (PPPs), positioning her as a leading force in blended finance and sustainable investment. With a deep

Skills & Expertise:

Conservation science, remote sensing, environmental policy, marine science, natural resources governance, land tenure

Sectors of Work:

Environment, International Leader, Scientist, Policy Advisor, Educator, Entrepreneur

Languages Spoken:

English, French, Spanish

understanding of how business, government, and civil society intersect, she has influenced key stakeholders to transform bold ideas into actionable strategies.

She has a proven track record of translating complex visions into tangible outcomes, consistently developing and executing strategies that exceed sustainability goals. Her collaborative leadership style inspires cross-sector partnerships, fosters innovation, and scales sustainability efforts worldwide. Whether leading global initiatives or guiding corporate sustainability programs, Dr. Weeks remains committed to using her expertise to create lasting, positive change for people and the planet.

contact@wice.org.